

Eric Leidigh

Director
Belco Community Credit Union

Eric Leidigh, owner of Leidigh's Heating & Air Conditioning Inc. has been a member of Belco Community Credit Union for more than 50 years.

He currently serves as Vice Chair of the Supervisory Committee, where he assists the credit union in making the best choices for its members.

Eric is a Certified HVAC technician, who attended Harrisburg Area Community College and the New York Institute of Photography.

During his time on the Supervisory Committee, Eric has enjoyed overseeing the policies and programs that have helped Belco to thrive and grow. He has participated in updated training classes, implemented improved monitoring and approval procedures, and pushed for diverse, equitable representation of our membership through board recommendations.

Eric has had numerous compelling experiences in serving our members through community events, new branch groundbreaking ceremonies, meetings with National Credit Union Organizations, the merging of Credit Unions together with Belco and not only surviving, but very much succeeding and growing Belco during a worldwide pandemic.
